PROXY STATEMENT

Your Proxy in the form enclosed is solicited by the management of North Coast Life Insurance Company for use at the Annual Meeting of Stockholders to be held April 27, 2007, and any adjournments thereof. The cost of solicitation will be paid by the Company. Shares represented by proxies properly signed and returned will be voted at the meeting. The proxy may be revoked at any time before it is voted.

The Company has outstanding 611,983 shares of common stock entitled to vote at the meeting. Each share of common stock outstanding is entitled to one vote, but shares may be cumulatively voted in the election of Directors. Holders of the 362,691 shares of the preferred stock will vote for the election of two persons to represent them on the Board of Directors and common stockholders do not vote for these two Directors. A separate proxy card has been prepared for the preferred stockholders. Only stockholders of record at the close of business on March 16, 2007, are entitled to vote.

A copy of the Annual Report to Stockholders with the balance sheet and operating statement of the Company for 2006 is being enclosed with this mailing.

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

The Proxy will be voted for the election of the nominees named in the following table, and in the event that any of the nominees refuse or are unable to serve, the Proxy will be voted in accordance with the best judgment of the person or persons acting thereunder. Under the By-Laws there are three classes of Directors serving for different periods of time. At the Annual Meeting in 2004, Ronald D. Andrews, Douglas H. Ogden and C. Robert Ogden were elected for terms of office expiring at the Annual Meeting in 2007. They are being renominated for terms of office expiring at the Annual Meeting in 2010.

Being renominated as Directors to represent the preferred stockholders are Nicholas R. Knapton and Paul S. Schultz. Mr. Knapton, who is an attorney and also a Certified Public Accountant, is associated with the accounting firm of McDirmid, Mikkelsen & Secrest in Spokane. Mr. Schultz oversees the raising and wide distribution of plants grown in his family's greenhouses and also owns an apiary. These Directors serve annual terms and are not a part of the classes of Directors who represent the common stockholders except for Mr. Knapton. The preferred stockholders, voting separately as a class, have the right to elect two Directors to the Company's Board of Directors so long as at least 50% in principal amount of such stock remains outstanding. Such Directors, like each of the Company's other Directors, are required under Washington corporate law to act in the best interest of all shareholders and not merely in the best interest of the holders of the Series A Preferred stock. Except as to matters affecting the preferred stock and as otherwise expressly required by applicable law, holders of the shares of the Series A Preferred stock are not entitled to vote on any other matters on which shareholders have the right to vote. Holders of Series A Preferred stock are not entitled to cumulative voting rights. Mr. Knapton, who holds both common and preferred stock, was elected to the Board at a meeting of the Executive and Finance Committees on December 14, 2001, and represents both the common and preferred stockholders. While he holds a regular term on the Board which expires in 2009, he also has been elected annually by the preferred stockholders to be one of their representatives and serves in a dual capacity. Mr. Schultz, who personally and beneficially holds both preferred and common stock, was elected to the Board as a representative of the preferred stockholders on October 27, 2006, to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of David A. Taisey.

If for any reason any nominee is not a candidate when the election occurs, it is intended that the proxy will be voted for the election of the other nominees and may be voted for any substitute nominee. However, the management does not expect substitutions to occur.

Continuing Directors are listed in the following table under the caption "Directors Continuing in Office."
